Final rejection

1. Claims 2-4, 6, 7, 9-11, and 13-16 are pending or remained for examination.

The response in office action paper number 14 stands active.

Response to the applicant's argument

2. Applicants argument's with respect to amended claims 2, 9, 15 and previously presented/original claims 3, 4, 6, 7, 10, 11, 13, 14 and 16 filled in 10/30/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The examiner would like to point out that this action is made final (MPEP 706.07a).

In response to the applicants' argument that the references fail to show plurality of chips connected to each other via test output terminal (TDO). However, the argument is not convincing since Brown in figure 2 teach that plurality of chips connected to each other and TDO pin of first chip's TAP connected directly to TDI pin of second chip; TDO pin of second chip connected directly to TDI pin of the third chip; and so forth and the TDO pin of the last chip goes to the external test bus' TDO line (see col. 4, lines 12-16). In light of the above, the inclusion of the term "test result" in the claims does not change the concept of the claimed invention such that it is allowable over the prior art of record. This is so because the purpose of performing testing process is to obtain a test result. Further, the applicant argues that Brown did not teach an airtight sealed and Fehr teach an IC chips are typically packaged in an airtight environment. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, the applied references have been applied appropriately. The applicant further argued that Brown only disclosed a single basic chained arrangement of chips and only concerned with controller and associated protocol for testing a standard ring of devices and instead the applicant semiconductor device directed to a structure. Unlike the assumptions of the applicant, the examiner believes that Browns' system describe a general architecture for fault testing applicable in all logic testing systems. Therefore, the argument is not found not convincing and in light of the above, the final rejection holds strong in view of the recited references.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 2133

3. Claims 2-4, 6, 7, 9-11, and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art Brown et al. (U.S. PN: 5, 627,842) in view of Fehr (U.S. PN: 6,058,602).

The examiner disagrees with the applicant and maintains all rejection with respect to amended/original claims 2-4, 6, 7, 9-11, and 13-16. All the arguments have been considered. It is the examiner's conclusion that the amended claims are not patentably distinct or non-obvious over the prior art of record (see paper 4).

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
